

INTRODUCING NEW STAFF AT CROP CARE

20 May 2011

CROP CARE AUSTRALASIA has strategically positioned three new technical sales representatives – Andrew Ryan, Angus Wilson and Jason Wheaton – to strengthen the company's technical backup and customer service to regional dealers and farmers.

The new appointees' broad backgrounds in agribusiness, agronomy, farming and education add further depth to the company's current team, delivering innovative crop protection and agronomy solutions from the laboratory to the paddock.

Andrew Ryan

Based in Wagga Wagga, Mr Ryan will cover southeast New South Wales – west to Hay, north to Cowra and south to Holbrook. Mr Ryan has a strong background in agriculture and small business, growing up on a large-scale potato and grazing property at Narrandera before moving into the rural merchandise/agronomy field – firstly with a Dalgetty franchise, then Pivot, and onto a branch-management position with Landmark at Junee. A period of running his own business gives Mr Ryan special rapport with other small business operators.

Angus Wilson

As Crop Care's technical representative for the NSW Tableland district based in Orange, Mr Wilson's territory covers the state's northeast area from Orange north to Armidale and east to Sydney. With a degree in Agricultural Economics from the University of New England, and a graduate diploma in management, Mr Wilson has held a broad range of rural-related positions including rural merchandising with IAMA, Inverell; in fruit and vegetable exports out of Sydney; as an agronomist with AGnVET, Dubbo; as Incitec Pivot area manager, Orange; and most recently as AACL rural fund manager for the NSW central coast.

Jason Wheaton

With an equally broad background in many facets of agriculture, Mr Wheaton is based at Lucindale, near Naracoorte in South Australia, servicing southeast SA and the Wimmera and western districts of Victoria. His career in several regions of Australia has included the position of Nufarm territory manager in West Australia, and managing the family farm on Kangaroo Island. For the past three years Mr Wheaton has been lecturing in agronomy for Marcus Oldham College, Geelong, Victoria.
